Dear NSSED Families,

Phase Change

After reviewing with our reopening committee our plan considerations, as well as this week's updated guidance for reopening schools safely, NSSED is working hard through many logistics to provide increased in-person learning for students in the week's ahead. A communication regarding our plans will be sent by the end of the day, Monday, March 15. We appreciate your patience and share in the collective goal to maximize the amount of in-person learning to as many students and families as safely possible.
